As we journey on through this life of care
 Who is really sure of the road they seek
 Many paths may climb up the mountain side
 Go with hope in your heart and reach for the peak

Chorus

Raise your voices and tell the story
 Shine your light that dark shall fail
 If not ours, then who's the glory
 For truth will guide us and good prevail

Beset by trials, the way is steep
 Fight hard to preserve what we know is true
 The dark will tempt and greed conspire
 So be steadfast in thought and all things you do

Chorus

For a lowly life the poor still toil
 While nests are re-feathered and power abused
 No conscience pricks, no questions asked
 If victory is yours, think on who must lose

Chorus

Remember well the ways of men
 For every wrong there must be a right
 Our time is brief, too soon it seems
 We will fade as daylight must follow night
